

Spirituality and Recovery in Mental Health:

Putting People at the Heart of Care

A conference for clinicians, educators, service users and carers, chaplains, faith and community leaders—and anyone else interested

Wednesday 10th—Friday 12th July 2019, St John's College, Durham

As more and more mental health services embrace a recovery approach to care, this conference will give opportunity to explore the role which spirituality has to play in recovery. This time the conference will focus particularly on how person-centred care relates to these themes of spirituality and recovery, featuring speakers from a variety of disciplines including nursing, psychiatry, occupational therapy and chaplaincy.

Speakers include:
Prof Wilf McSherry, Dr Jed Boardman, Prof Chris Mayers, Julia Head, Prof Chris Cook, Miles Rinaldi, and contributors with their own lived experience of mental health challenges.

Costs (non-residential):

Full conference attendance £140, reduced rate for Tees, Esk and Wear Valleys staff £125, daily rate £80 (accommodation available at St John's College at time of booking, if required).

For further information or to book your place contact johns.conferences@durham.ac.uk

Tees Esk and Wear Valleys NHS Foundation Trust service users can book their places through ARCH Recovery College in Durham at a concessionary rate (bursaries are also available) by telephoning 0191 384 3895 (option 2) or emailing tewv.recoverycollege@nhs.net

Delegate presentations and workshops are welcome. Please contact Colin Jay at colin.jay@nhs.net for further information.